NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.

TO ALL WANTING FARMS,

A RARE OPPORTUNITY IN A DELIGHTFUL AND HEALTHY CLIMATE 25 MILES SOUTH-EAST OF PHILADELPHIA, ON THE CAMDEN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD, NEW JERSEY.

An old estate consisting of several thousand of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vinyards and peach orchards, planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION, Products bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price in the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand.— He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place; good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages here presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will sell land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, THE RAILROAD COMPANY GIVES A FREE TICKET FOR SIX MONTHS AND A HALF-FARE TICKET FOR THREE YEARS.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Foundries for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would affect the improvement of the place, can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land: leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad, 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia. Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

NO SURRENDER.

Ever constant, ever true,
Let the word be, No surrender!
Boldly dare and greatly do!
This shall bring us bravely through,
No surrender, No surrender!
And though Fortune's smile, be few,
Hope is always springing new,
Still inspiring me and you
With a magic—No surrender!

Nail the colors to the mast,
Shouting gladly, No surrender!
Troubles near are all but past—
Serve them as you did the last,
No surrender, No surrender!
Though the skies be overcast,
And upon the sleety blast
Disappointments gather fast,
Beat them off with No surrender!

Constant and courageous still,
Mind the word is, No surrender!
Battle, tho' it be up-hill,
Stagger not at seeming ill,
No surrender, No surrender!
Hope,—and thus your hope fulfil—
There's a way where there's a will,
And the way all cares to kill,
Is to give them—No surrender!

THE INDEPENDENT FARMER.

BY W. W. FOSDICK.

Let sailors sing the windy deep,
Let soldiers praise their armor,
But in my heart this toast I'll keep,
The Independent Farmer.
When first the rose, in robe of green,
Unfolds its crimson lining,
And 'round his cottage porch is seen
The honeysuckle twining,
When banks of bloom their sweetness yield,
To bees that gather honey,
He drives his team across the field,
Where skies are soft and sunny.

The blackbird clucks behind the plow,
The quail pipes loud and clearly;
Yon orchard hides behind its bough
The home he loves so dearly;
The gray old barn, whose doors unfold
His ample store in measure,
More rich than heaps of hoarded gold,
A precious, blessed treasure;
But yonder in the porch there stands
His wife, the lovely charmer,
The sweetest rose on all his lands:
The Independent Farmer.

To him the spring comes dancing gay,
To him the summer blushes,
The autumn smiles with yellow ray,
His sleep old winter hushes;
He cares not how the world may move,
No doubts or fears confound him:
His little flock are linked in love,
And household angels 'round him;
He trusts in God, and loves his wife,
Nor grief nor ill may harm her:
He's, nature's nobleman in life—
The Independent Farmer.

THE OCEAN DEPTHS.

A DIVER'S TALE.

The life of one who explores the mysteries of the sea, is not more perilous than fascinating. The charm of terror hangs around it and the interminable succession of exciting events renders it dear to its professor. Not to the common diver of the East, who can remain but for a fraction of time beneath the wave, and grope fearfully among rugged ocean mounds, but to the adept in the civilized mode of diving, who, in his protective armor, may remain submerged for hours, and wander, with impunity, for miles along those unknown regions far below the sea—to him are laid open the horrors of the watery creation, and he may gaze upon such scenes as Arabian stories tell us were presented to the fearful eyes of Abdallah. To him the most thrilling occurrences of the upper world seem frivolous; for in his memory, he retains thoughts that may well chill the soul with dread.

I am a diver—a diver from choice—and I am proud of my profession. Where is such courage required as needed here? It is nothing to be a soldier; a diver, however—but I forbear. I will tell my story and leave others to judge concerning it.

An appalling shipwreck occurred, not long ago, upon the wildest part of the coast of New Foundland. The tidings of this calamity reached the ears of thousands; but amid the crowd of accidents which followed in quick succession, it was soon forgotten—not by us, however. We found that the vessel had sunk upon a spot where the water's depth was by no means great, and that a daring man might easily reach her.

She was a steamer called the Marmion, and had been seen going suddenly down, without an instant's warning, by some fishermen near by. She had undoubtedly struck a hidden rock, and had thus been, in one moment, destroyed.

I spoke to my associates of the plan, and they approved it. No time was lost in making the necessary preparations, and a short time beheld us embarked in our small schooner for the sunken ship. There were six of us, and we anticipated extraordinary success.

I was the leader, and generally ventured upon any exploits in which there was uncommon danger—not that the others were cowards; on the contrary; they were all brave men, but I was gifted with a coolness and presence of mind of which others were destitute. As two persons were needed in order to explore the Marmion, I had selected as my companion a young fellow, whose steadiness and dauntless courage had several times before been fearfully tested.

It was a calm and pleasant day, but the southern and eastern horizon looked deceitful. Small suspicious clouds were gathered there, ill of aspect, and "sneaking fellows, regular hang-dog fellows," as my comrade, Rimmer, remarked to me. Nevertheless, we were not to be put off by a little cloudiness in the sky, but boldly prepared to venture. So deep was the water, that no vestige of a ship's mast remained above the surface, to point out the resting place of the Marmion. We were compelled, therefore, to select the scene of operations according to the best of our ability.—Down went the sails of our schooner, and Rimmer and I put on our diving armor. We fixed our helmets tightly, and screwed on the hose. One by one each clumsy article was adjusted. The weights were hung, and were ready.

"It looks terrible blackish, Berton," said Rimmer to me.

"Oh," I replied, gaily, "it's only a little mist—all right."

"Ah!" He uttered a low exclamation, which sounded hollow from his cavernous helmet.

"All ready," I cried, in a loud voice, which they, however, could not easily distinguish.—Then making a proper sign, I was swung over the side.

Down we went, I first, and Rimmer close behind me. It did not take a long time for us to reach the bottom. We found ourselves upon what seemed a broad plain, sloping downward toward the south, and rising slightly toward the north. Looking forward then, a dim, black object arose, which our experienced eyes knew to be a lofty rock.

I motioned to Rimmer that we should proceed there.

I cannot tell the strangeness of the sensation felt by one who first walks the bottom of the sea. There are a thousand objects, fitted to excite astonishment, even in the mind of him who has dared the deed a hundred times. All around us lay the plain, covered by water; but here the eye could not pierce far away as as in the upper air, for the water, in the distance, grew opaque, and seemed to fade away into misty darkness. There was no sound, except the incessant gurgle which was produced by the escape of air from the breast-valve and the splash caused by our passage through the waters. We walked on at a good pace; for this armor, which seems so clumsy up above, is excellent below, and offers little inconvenience to the practical wearer.

Fishes in crowds were around us. Fishes of every shape met our eyes no matter where they turned. They swam swiftly by us; they sported in the water above us; they raced and chased one another in every direction. Here a shoal of porpoises tumbled along in clumsy gambols, there a grampus might be seen rising slowly to the surface; here an immense number of smaller fish flashed past us; ther some huge ones with ponderous forms, floated in the water lazily. Sometimes three or four placed themselves directly before us, and solemnly working their gills. There they would remain, till we would come close up to them, and then, with a start, they would dart away.

All this time we were walking onward along the bottom of the sea, while above us, like a black cloud in the sky, we would see our boat slowly moving onward upon the surface of the water. And not more than a hundred yards before us, we could see the towering form of that ebony rock, which had first greeted our eyes from a far. As yet we could not be certain that this was the place where the Marmion had struck. But soon a round, black object became discernible as we glanced at the rocky base.

Rimmer struck on my arm, and pointed. I signed assent, and we moved on more quickly. A few moments elapsed; we had come nearer to the rock. The black object now looked like the stern of a vessel whose hull lay there.

Suddenly, Rimmer struck me again, and pointed upward. Following the direction of his hand, I looked up, and saw the surface of the water all foamy and in motion. There was a momentary thrill through my heart, but it passed over. We were in a dangerous position. The storm was coming on.

But should we turn back now, when we were so near the object of our search? Already it lay before us. We were close beside it.—No, I would not. I signalized to Rimmer to go forward, and we still kept our course.

Now the rock rose up before us, black, rugged, dismal. Its rough sides were worn by the action of the water, and, in some places, were covered by marine plants and nameless ocean vegetation. We passed onward, we clambered over a spur, which jutted from the cliff, and there lay the steamer. The Marmion—there she lay upright, with everything still standing. She had gone right down and had settled in such a position among the rocks that she stood upright there, just as though she lay at her wharf. We rushed eagerly along and clambered up her side. There was a low moan in the water, which sounded warningly in our ears, and told of a swift approaching danger. What was to be done, must be done speedily. We hurried forward. Rimmer rushed to the cabin. I went forward to descend into the hold. I descended the ladder. I walked into the engineer's room.—All was empty here, all was water. The waves of the ocean had entered, and were sporting with the works of man. I went into the freight room. Suddenly, I was startled by an appalling noise upon the deck. The heavy footsteps of some one, running as though in mortal fear, or most dreadful haste, sounded in my ears. Then my heart throbbed wildly; for it was a fearful thing to hear, far down in the silent depths of the ocean.

Pshaw! it's only Rimmer!

I hurriedly ascended the deck by the first outlet that appeared. When I speak of hurry, I speak of the quickest movement possible, when cumbered with so much armor. But this movement of mine was quick; I rushed upward; sprang out upon the deck.

It was Rimmer!

He stepped forward and clutched my arm. He pressed it with a convulsive grasp, and pointed to the cabin.

I attempted to go there.

He stamped his foot, and tried to hold me back. He pointed to the boat, and implored me with frantic gestures to go up.

It is appalling to witness the horror-struck soul trying to express itself by signs. It is awful to see these signs when no face is plainly visible, and no voice is heard. I could not see his face plainly, but his eyes, through his heavy mask, glowed like coals of fire.

"I will go!" I exclaimed. I sprang from him. He clasped his hands together, but dared not follow.

Good heavens! I thought, what fearful thing is here? What scene can be so dreadful as to paralyze the soul of a practiced diver. I will see for myself.

I walked forward. I came to the cabin door. I entered the forward saloon, but saw nothing. A feeling of contempt came to me. Rimmer shall not come with me again, I thought. Yet I was awe-struck. Down in the depths of the sea there is only silence—oh, how solemn! I paced the long saloon, which had echoed with the shrieks of the drowning passengers. Ah! there are thoughts which sometimes fill the soul, which are only felt by those to whom scenes of sublimity are familiar. Thus thinking, I walked to the after cabin and entered—Oh, God of heaven!

Had not my hand clenched the door with a grasp which mortal terror had made convulsive, I should have fallen to the floor. I stood nailed to the spot. For there before me stood a crowd of people—men and women—caught in the last death struggle by the overwhelming waters, and fastened to the spot, each in the position in which death had found him. Each one had sprung from his chair at the shock of the sinking ship, and with one common emotion all had started for the door. But the waters of the sea had been too swift for them. Lo! then—some wildly grasping the table, others the sides of the cabin—there they all stood. Near the door was a crowd of people, heaped one upon another—some on the floor, others rushing over them—all seeking, madly, to gain the outlet. There was one who sought to clamber over the table, and still was there holding on to an iron post. So strong was each convulsive grasp, so fierce the struggle of each with death, that their hold had not yet been relaxed; but each one stood and looked frantically to the door.

To the door—good God! To me, to me they were looking! They were glancing at me, all those dreadful, those terrible eyes!—eyes in which the fire of life had been displaced by the chilling gleam of death—eyes which still glared, like the eyes of a maniac, with no expression. They froze me with their cold and icy stare. They had no meaning, for the soul had gone. And this made it still more horrible than it could have been in life; for the appalling contortion of their faces, expressing fear, horror, despair, and whatever else the human soul may feel, contrasting with the cold and glassy eyes, made their vacancy yet more fearful. He upon the table seemed more fiendish than the others; his long black hair was disheveled, and floated horribly down—and his beard and moustache, all loosened by the water, gave him the grimness of a demon.—Oh, what woe and torture, what unutterable agonies appeared in the despairing glance of those faces—faces twisted into spasmodic contortions, while the souls that lighted them were writhing and struggling for life.

I heeded not the dangerous sea which, even when we touched the steamer, had slightly rolled down in these awful depths the swell would not be very strong, unless it should increase with ten-fold fury above. But it had been increasing, though I had not noticed it, and the motion of the water began to be felt in these abysses. Suddenly the steamer was shaken and rocked by the swell.

At this the hideous forms were shaken and fell. The heaps of people rolled asunder. That demon on the table seemed to make a spring directly towards me. I fled, shrieking—all were after me, I thought. I rushed out, with no purpose but to escape. I sought to throw off my weights and rise.

My weights could not be loosened—I pulled at them with frantic exertion, but could not loosen them. The iron fastenings had grown stiff. One of them I wrested off in my convulsive efforts, but the other still kept me down. The tube, also was lying down still in my passage-way through the machine rooms. I did not know this until I had exhausted my strength, and almost my hope in vain efforts to loosen the weight, and still the horror of that scene in the cabin rested upon me.

Where was Rimmer? The thought flashed across me. He was not there. He had returned. Two weights lay near, which seemed thrown off in terrible haste. Yes, Rimmer had gone. I looked up; there they lay, the boat tossing and rolling among the waves.

I rushed down into the machine room, to go back, so as to loosen my tube. I had gone through passages carelessly, and this lay there, for it was unrolled from above as I went on. I went back in haste to extricate myself; I could stay here no longer, for if all the gold of Golconda was in the vessel, I would not stay in company with the dreadful dead!

Back—fear lent wings to my feet. I hurried down stairs into the lower hold once more, and retraced my steps through the passages below. I walked back to the place into which I had first descended. It was dark; a new feeling of horror shot through me. I looked up. The aperture was closed!

Heavens! was it closed by mortal hand? Had Rimmer, in his panic flight, blindly thrown down the trap-door, which I now remembered to have seen open when I descended, or had some fearful being from the cabin—that demon who sprung toward me——?

I started back in terror.

But I could not wait here; I must go; I must escape from this den of horrors. I sprang up the ladder, and tried to raise the door. It resisted my efforts; I put my helmeted head against it, and tried to raise it; the rung of the ladder broke beneath me, but the door was not raised; my tube came down through it and kept it strongly expanded by close wound wire.

I seized a bar of iron and tried to pry it up; I raised it slightly, but there was no way to get it up further. I looked around, and found some blocks; with these I raised the heavy door, little by little, placing a block in to keep what I had gained. But the work was slow, and laborious, and I had worked a long while before I had raised it four inches.

The sea rolled more and more. The submerged vessel felt its power, and rocked.—Suddenly it wheeled over, and lay upon its side.

I ran around to get on the deck above, to try and lift up the door. But when I came to the other outlet, I knew it was impossible; for the tube would not permit me to go so far, and then I would rather have died a thousand deaths than have ventured again so near the cabin.

I returned to the fallen door; I sat down in despair and waited for death. I saw no hope of escape. This, then, was to be my end.

But the steamer gave a sudden lurch, again acted upon by the power of the waves. She had been balanced upon a rock, in such a way that slight action of the water was sufficient to tip her over.

She cracked, on the ground, and labored and then turned upon her side.

I rose; I clung to the ladder; I pressed the trap door open, while the steamer lay with her deck perpendicular to the ground. I sprang out, and touched the bottom of the sea. It was in good time; for a moment after, the mass went back again.

Then, with the last effort, I twisted the iron fastening of the weight which kept me down; I jerked it. It was loosened, it broke, it fell. In a moment I began to ascend, and in a few minutes I was floating on the water—for the air which is pressed down for the diver's consumption, constitutes a buoyant mass, which raises him up from the sea.

Thanks to heaven! There was the strong boat, with my bold, brave men! They felt me rising; they saw me, and came and saved me.

Rimmer had fled from the horrid scene when I entered the cabin, but remained in the boat to lend his aid. He never went down again, but became a sea captain. As for me, I still go down, but only to vessels whose crews have been saved.

It is needless to say that the Marmion was never again visited.

"CARRIAGE, SIR."

The Commercial Bulletin gets off the following, which is rather a good one:

Last week a gentleman from the West, visiting Boston for the first time, to attend the Trade Sales, arrived via the land route from New York, about midnight. On leaving the train, he secured the services of a hackman, and directed him to drive to the United States Hotel. Jarvey seized his valise, packed his passenger into the coach, with unusual alacrity, and leaped upon his box, cracked his whip, and rattled off through the almost deserted streets at a spanking rate. Away they went, up one steet and down another, until at last the panting horses were reined up before the broad portico of the United States.

"How much, driver?" inquired the passenger.

"Fifty cents, sir—reg'lar fare, sir. All we're 'low'd to charge sir, said Jarvey, politely.

"Ah! very reasonable," was the satisfied remark, as he paid over the half-dollar, "and here's a dime extra, for driving me up so quickly."

Coachy grinned his thanks, leaped upon his vehicle, and rattled off.

Next morning our western friend received a call from one of his Boston acquaintances, and in course of conversation, happened to mention his arrival the night previous, and his ride up to the hotel.

"Ride up!" exclaimed his friend. "Why you don't mean to say you rode to this house, from the Western depot?"

"Certainly I do. You don't think I would walk all that distance, do you!"

"All that distance!" repeated the other, eyeing the vigorous underpinning of his friend. "Why how far from here do you suppose the railroad station is?"

"Judging from the ride, about a mile. How far is it?"

"Just across the street—possibly ten steps—it may be a dozen," was the reply of the other as he pointed to the station from the window. "You have been the victim of a hack driver. These men are becoming as bad as their brethren in New York."

"No, sir," was the decided reply. "There was one circumstance about that ride which would have made me sure I was in Boston and not in New York!"

"What was it?" asked the other.

"Why the drover charged me fifty cents instead of five dollars!"

A MISTAKE.—A young gentleman who had been paying (under a protest from her father) his addresses to a young lady, and had almost given it up as a hopeless case, obtained an eligible situation in a foreign mercantile house. Meeting a lady of his acquaintance soon after he had arranged to go abroad, he said to her: 'If you will promise never to tell it to any one, I'll confide to you a secret."

"O no! of course I'll never mention it," said the lady.

He whispered in her ear—

'My fortune is made, I am going to Havre!'

'You don't say so! When?'

They separated and the next day the father of the young lady appearing before our hero, flourishing a big cane in his right hand, demanded to know, 'by what authority he had proclaimed that he was about to marry his daughter?'

The young man denied the soft impeachment.

'You did!' roared his wouldn't be father in-law: 'You told Miss Three-em-dash that you was going to have her next week?'

'And so I am—to sail for the port of Havre on the Humbolt.'

The old gent sloped.—Boston Museum.

☞A member of the Mississippi Legislature at one of its sessions, introduced a bill to change the name of a certain county in that State to Cass county. One of the opposition moved, as an amendment, the letter C be stricken out of the proposed name. This motion created some laughter at the expense of the member offering. Nothing daunted, however, he arose in reply and said: "Mr. Speaker, this is the first instance that has come to my knowledge in which a member has had the assurance, upon the floor of any legislature, to propose to name a county after himself.

To the above-named committees, chosen by the direct vote of the Democracy of the county, the organization of the party in the several townships and boroughs, is entrusted. It is their duty to see that voters are properly assessed, that harmony and good feeling prevail among Democrats, that the candidates of the party are not secretly injured by their political or their personal enemies, that the whole Democratic vote of their respective districts is brought to the polls, and that the interests of the party generally are attended to in a proper manner. These Committees are all composed of good men and we, therefore, confidently expect that they will render great service to the Democracy between this and the election.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine is, as its title imports, a publication devoted peculiarly to the interests of the fair sex, and, truly, we know of no work of a similar nature that is so useful and entertaining as this. Its reports of the fashions are always the latest, its patterns for needlework and household recipes, are always novel and frequently of great value. The ladies will consult their own interests, by subscribing for Peterson.

ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE.—For the family circle, Arthur's Home Magazine is unsurpassed. It is always high toned, moral, instructive, and withal sprightly and entertaining. This work is edited by T. S. ARTHUR, the novelist, assisted by VIRGINIA F. TOWNSEND, one of the most prominent female writers of the present time.

Then and Now.

REMARKABLE TRANSFORMATION.

THE BUZZARD OF '55 A FULL-FLEDGED EAGLE IN '59!

The Abolitionists of Bedford county, or rather a few of the wire-workers of that party, in and about this town, have nominated SIMON CAMERON for President of the United States.—Without one particle of shame, without the slightest regard for their own honor, or for the consistency of their party, these reckless, venal and unscrupulous politicians have selected as their favorite candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people, the very man whom they denounced in the bitterest and vilest manner three years and a half ago! Who ever heard of such daring and reckless inconsistency, before? It is spit out, as it were, into the very face of their party. It is like "the dog that returneth to his vomit again!" "Can such things be, and overcome us like a summer cloud, without our special wonder?"

Why is it that this "slimy politician, who never accomplished an honorable achievement in politics," (as the Abolition organ said of him in 1855,) has received this honor at the hands of the Bedford Abolitionists? Has their party become slimy with the filth of their demagogueism that Simon suits them so well? Or has the aforesaid Simon been "about, with the Middletown Bank in his pocket?"

We ask our readers to compare carefully the two articles which we publish below, side by side. Observe that in 1855, the Abolition editors were of the opinion that the success of Cameron would have been "most direful to the interests of Pennsylvania," and that they looked upon him as a "FREE TRADER" and a "NEBRASKA MAN," "whilst in 1859 they bespatter him with praises, regarding him as a "far-seeing statesman," "the able and zealous advocate of the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania, the "fearless advocate of the rights of the North," and the "manly opponent of slavery extension." In 1855 they regarded him as "the most notoriously corrupt political juggler and thimble-rigger in the land," and prayed Heaven to avert the calamity of his election." Now they look upon him as the very beau ideal of a candidate for the high and responsible office of President of the United States. Why this change? Cameron belonged to their party in '55, when they denounced him so vehemently; in fact he was their caucus nominee for U. S. Senator. Consequently he has not changed since then, but they have. Will the masses of their party change with them? Will they follow these purchaseable leaders, like sheep led to the slaughter? Is there no virtue, no sense of honor, no self-respect, not one spark of consistency, left in the ranks of the Opposition party of Bedford county? We shall see.

[From the Bedford Inquirer of Feb'y 16, 1855.]

Simon Cameron.

Our readers will no doubt be surprised at the efforts that have been made in the Pennsylvania Legislature, to secure the election to a seat in U. S. Senate, of SIMON CAMERON, one of the most foul, and corrupt political desperadoes, that has ever disgraced this or any other State. It appears that he has been buying a number of unprincipled members of the Legislature into his support. It is well known that before the election, there was no one in the State who was more opposed to the American party than Cameron, but no sooner is the election over, than this SLIMY POLITICIAN, WHO NEVER ACCOMPLISHED AN HONORABLE ACHIEVEMENT IN POLITICS, turns round wiry and cunning as he is, and slips into the "Order," for the purpose of securing the caucus nomination for Senator. But we hope and trust there are honest and honorable men enough in the Legislature, to thwart the designs of this arch demagogue. At the caucus, the secret ballot was carried by the friends of Cameron, which would enable the purchased members to vote for him under cover! On the fifth ballot the vote stood Cameron 45; Curtin 40; scattering 6. On the two last ballots Mr. Curtin would have been nominated, but one more vote was cast each time than there were members present—so that it will be seen that Simon resorted to every means foul to accomplish his ends. At this stage of the proceedings thirty-three members "bolted" from the caucus. Among those who withdrew, we are highly gratified to inform our readers, was the able member of the Senate from this place—HON. FRANCIS JORDAN. Nobly does he stand by the wishes and interests of his constituents—nobly is he sustained in his course by the entire community who speak with but one voice on the subject. After the withdrawal of the thirty-teree—Cameron was nominated by those who remained in caucus, 44 to 11 for Curtin, and 2 for Fuller. But thanks to the unpurchaseable part of the Legislature, Simon has been foiled so far, at least. On Tuesday, the day set apart by law for the election, he came within seven votes of an election. The election was finally postponed for two weeks. In the meantime SIMON WILL BE ABOUT WITH THE MIDDLETOWN BANK IN HIS POCKET, READY TO RISK THE WHOLE CONCERN ON HIS ELECTION. HIS SUCCESS WOULD BE THE MOST DIREFUL TO THE INTERESTS OF PENNSYLVANIA, FREE TRADER AND NEBRASKA MAN, AS HE IS. Let all those Americans and Whigs who voted for him, hereafter be marked. They should have the SEAL OF CAIN UPON THEM, that they may be known throughout their miserable lives, as corrupt knaves, who, for money, sold their votes, and disgraced the land of their birth, by voting for the MOST NOTORIOUS CORRUPT POLITICAL JUGGLER AND THIMBLE-RIGGER IN THE LAND. HEAVEN AVERT THE CALAMITY OF HIS ELECTION. No honorable man considers the nomination he received, by the purchased traitors, who remained in caucus, binding on any member.

[From the Bedford Inquirer of Sept. 2d, 1859]

General Simon Cameron.

In obedience to the unanimous voice of the People's Party of Bedford County, we to-day nail to the mast head of our paper, the name of the Hon. Simon Cameron as their choice for next President of the United States. We do this not merely as the organ of the party, but because it entirely accords with our own wishes. No other meeting will be held perhaps until spring, and this was deemed the most appropriate occasion to give expression to that sentiment in behalf of Gen. Cameron which we well knew to pervade the entire mass of our party in the County. If any one doubted this he would have been fully convinced by the enthusiasm with which the meeting on Tuesday night responded to the resolution. Not a voice in opposition was heard. So far as Bedford County is concerned his nomination was a spontaneous movement of the people.

With the people of Pennsylvania General Cameron has always been held in high estimation. Among the politicians, it is true, he has had many bitter enemies, because in his straight forward course he has often thwarted their views and interfered with their ambition; but the masses who rarely fail in their estimation of character, have always rightly regarded him as a practical, far seeing statesman, and have admired him for his frank and dignified bearing. In the Senate of the United States, when Dallas, and others betrayed their trust, General Cameron was always the able and zealous advocate of the great interests of Pennsylvania, which he so well understands.

He is not a talker, but a thinker and an actor. If he has never filled the mailbags of the country with long-winded political professions he has never failed in his whole duty to his State or the nation. He has made no long list of speeches on all sorts of questions for an unscrupulous opposition to seize upon and misrepresent in different parts of the country; and this is no small matter to be considered in the choice of a candidate. A fearless advocate of the rights of the North, and a manly opponent of slavery extension, he has never been hurried into any violent, fanatical or impractical views on the subject of slavery. He is a fair representative of the sentiment of Pennsylvania on that question, and the Republican party of this State represent the sound conservative views of the country. The name of Gen. Cameron is a tower of political strength in this State, and, with him as our candidate, Pennsylvania can be triumphantly carried in 1860, and with her the Union. With another candidate we might fail, and the beneficent results of a Republican victory deferred to the distant future.

☞Mr. Fr. Jordan, in his speech on Tuesday night of Court Week, gave vent to a stream of bitterness and falsehood against the Democratic party, which surpassed anything for foulness and malignity that we have ever listened to. According to Mr. Jordan, the Democratic party is defrauding the state, cheating the government, running the nation in debt and ruining the country generally. If the poison of the asp had been instilled upon his tongue, he could not have spoken bitterer words in greater spite, than were his uncalled for invectives, against the Democratic party. A man who did not know how villanously this man Jordan falsifies in his political speeches, would have supposed from his representations that there was not a single decent, honest man in the Democratic party. And yet after all this gratuitous abuse of Democrats, Mr. Jordan and his party expect Democratic votes for MR. JOHN TAYLOR! Will Democrats turn round and kiss the hand that strikes them?

Ex-President Pierce at Home.

CONCORD, N. H., SEPT. 2.—Ex-President Pierce was received this morning by the Amoskeag Veterans, at Nassau, and escorted to Manchester, where he was received with much warmth. A procession was formed, and at the collation which followed, the ex-President and others delivered appropriate speeches. In the afternoon, Mr. Pierce proceeded to Concord, and was greeted with the cheers of a large concourse of citizens. He received the warm congratulations of his friends, and was serenaded by them this evening.

☞Dickens is not coming to this country. Who the dickens cares?

Organize! Organize!

Democrats of Bedford county! The time for action has arrived. The campaign is opened, the issue is made, the nominees of the different parties are before the people, and the election is but four weeks distant. We call upon you in the name of the great Democratic party, in the name of a true and unaffected patriotism, in the name of the principles which you hold dear, to be ready for the contest. You believe your principles to be correct; you believe the ascendancy of the Democratic party to be necessary to the welfare of your country; and believing so, you should devote at least a few days to the advocacy of those principles and to the interests of that party. Remember that a great work is before us! Pennsylvania is to be redeemed from the rule of Amalgamationists and Abolitionists. By our neglect to turn out to the polls last year, we suffered our glorious old Commenwealth to sink into the black slough of disunion Black Republicanism. Let us resolve to wipe out the defeat of last Fall, and restore Pennsylvania to the Democratic column. Be vigilant, therefore; be active. Organize! organize! Give a few days to the service of your party; call upon your neighbor and urge him to action; and let no effort be spared to bring out the full Democratic vote of the county. The eyes of the Democracy everywhere are turned to Bedford county, for during the last few years she has not failed to give a good account of herself. Let us show our friends in other parts of the State, what we can do when our blood is up! Rally! Democrats, rally!

Local and Miscellaneous.

—The meeting of the Buchanan Club, on Saturday evening last, was well attended and full of enthusiasm. Several speeches were made and a number of new members signed the constitution. The Club adjourned to meet on next Saturday evening, at half past seven o'clock.

—The Fall session of the Bedford Classical Institute, will commence on Friday, the 16th inst. The Messrs. Lyon enjoy the reputation of being excellent teachers. We hope that they will be properly sustained.

—The General Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the United States, will meet in Chicago, next month.

—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot and Union, is out in favor of Hon. Jacob. Fry, present Auditor General, for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

—James Kean, Esq., died in Cambria county, last week, aged 105 years. He was 22 years old when the Declaration of Independence was signed.

—The Boston Liberator (an Abolition newspaper) says that the contemplated statue of the Hon. Horace Mann, should be placed on Boston State House Grounds, with that of Daniel Webster—the first to represent the archangel, the latter the devil! What do the old Whig friends of Daniel Webster think of this?

—The Bedford Railroad Company, at their meeting on Monday last, adopted a resolution instructing their engineer to make a survey of that part of the road lying between this place and Bloody Run, preparatory to putting the same under contract. The subscriptions to the road, will also be called in, and the work pushed on vigorously.

—A Camp Meeting of the M. E. Church, has been in progress for some time past, near Pleasantville, in this county. A large concourse of people was in attendance.

—Read the address of Mr. John D. Lucas, Chairman of the Democratic Vigilance Committee of West Providence township, published in annother column. Mr. Lucas is an honest, hard-working mechanic, and as such he speaks to the toiling masses of his neighborhood. We commend the spirit which characterizes his address, as worthy of imitation by every Democrat.

—The Democracy of Berks county have instructed their delegates to the next Democratic State Convention, in favor of Hon. Henry D. Foster, as the next Democratic candidate for Governor.

—Union Prayer Meeting will be held in the Lutheran Church, next Sabbath, at 4 o'clock, P. M.

—The Banking House recently established in this place, has been deservedly successful. Messrs. Reed, Rupp and Schell are good men financially, and clever fellows in the bargain. May the shadow of their pile never grow less.

—Augustin Durbin, of Cambria county, has been nominated by the Democrats of his district for the office of State Senator. His opponent is Lewis W. Hall, formerly of this place.

—Read the story on our first page, entitled "The Ocean Depths." It is a thrilling and affecting narrative.

—GEO. BATES, ESQ., of Mifflin county, the Democratic candidate for the Legislature in that county, paid our town a visit a short time ago. Mr Bates is a gentleman of high character and a Democrat of the true stamp. We hope he may be elected.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—We have before us the September number of this truly able and interesting perodical. The literary status of the "Atlantic," is a "head and shoulders" above that of any of its monthly cotemporaries. It could not well be otherwise, when such writers as R. H. DANA, HENRY W. LONGFELLOW, OLIVER WENDELL HOLLMES, T. BUCHANAN READ, and MRS. H. B. STOWE contribute to its columns. The table of contents of the present number is rich and varied, comprising "The Life and Works of Ary Scheffer;" "A Visit to Martha's Vineyard;" "October to May;" "The Eleusinia;" "The Minister's Wooing;" "Once and Now;" "A Trip to Cuba;" "Zelma's Vow;" "My Double, and how He undid Me;" "The Murder of the Innocents;" "The Singer;" "The Professor at the Breakfast Table;" besides a number of ably written Reviews and Literary Notices.—The Atlantic Monthly is published by Phillips, Sampson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Now Look at This!

"If the agitation in regard to the FUGITIVE-SLAVE LAW should continue to increase, and become alarming, it will lead to the formation of two new parties, one for the Union, and the other against the Union.—Present parties have been created by the division of opinion as regards systems of National policy; and as to finance, free trade, or protection, the improvement of rivers and harbors, the distribution of the proceeds of the public lands, &c.; but these systems of policy springing out of the administration of the Government of the Union, lose all their interest and importance if that Union is to be dissolved. They sink into utter insignificance before the all imprtant, pervasive and paramount interest of the Union itself, and the platform of that Union party will be the Union the Constitution, AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF ITS LAWS. * * * * * I ANNOUNCE MYSELF IN THIS PLACE A MEMBER OF THE UNION PARTY—WHAT EVER MAY BE ITS COMPONENT ELEMENTS."—HENRY CLAY, November 15, 1850.

☞The Democrats of the Senatorial district composed of the counties of Fulton, Franklin and Adams, have nominated J. W. DOUGLAS, ESQ., of Franklin, as their candidate for Senator.

To the Democrats of W. Providence:

The time is fast approaching when you will be called upon to exercise the blood-bought right of the elective franchise. The late Democratic County Convention has given us an unexceptionable ticket; men who stood fast when darkness covered the earth and the gross darkness of Know Nothingism, the minds of men; men who deserve the approbation and support of every true Democrat and Old Line Whig.

Fellow Democrats, we have great reason to rejoice, when we compare the condition of the country at present, with the aspect it presented in '56 and '57, as regards peace. Then Kansas was "bleeding," the Mormons rebelling, and Walker's filibustering expedition was disturbing the peace of the country. JAMES BUCHANAN, who now holds the highest office in the gift of the people, has restored peace to our land; his administration has caused peace to flow as a river.

Fellow Democrats, remember that we have a fanatical and hypocritical party to contend against, who called themselves the Jackson party in '56. If Jackson was living, he would tell them that they are disunionists and that they would be instrumental in bringing on a conflict in this country, as Seward has predicted would come to pass, the North and South in arms against each other. Fellow Democrats are you ready for such a conflict? if not, it behooves you to make ready, and in the language of the immortal Jackson, say that the "Union of these States must and shall be preserved!" Remember Democrats, that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

The South demands an equal right with the North in the Territories; they entered the Union with that right recognised in the Constition, and it would be an act of injustice to debar them from it. Force-work will never abolish slavery. Peaceful means will accomplish it in time. Such means accomplished the abolition of slavery in our own State. Maryland and Kentucky would be free states now, had the abolitionists not excited the slave-holders by their agitation of the subject.

Fellow Democrats, in conclusion let me respectfully request each one of you to consider himself a member of the Democratic Vigilance Committee for our township, and let me exhort you all to go actively to work in the good old Democratic cause, and help us gain a glorious victory at the coming election.

JOHN D. LUCAS,
Chairman of Vig. Com.
of W. Providence tp.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE LIFE OF COL. DAVID CROCKETT, written by himself, comprising his early life, Hunting Adventures, Daring Deeds in Border and Indian Warfare, Services under General Jackson in the Creek war, Electioneering Speeches, Career in Congress, Triumphant Tour in the Northern States, and Struggles in the Texan War of Independence, together with an Account of his Glorious Death at the Alamo.

In one 12mo. volume. Handsomely bound. Price $1,00.

We copy the following from the Philadelphia North American:—

Colonel Crockett was a character. His autobiography has been long out of print; his reputation for eccentricity has been presumed upon in the publication of all sorts of outrageous and obscene nonsense, in coarse almanacs, and other vehicles for low humor. This volume is a republication of the genuine work, with necessary additions; and will be new to the present generation of readers. It is as marked and characteristic as the subject was; his portrait faithfully drawn, and none the less so that it is without effort, and perfectly naive and sincere. We well remember the amiable original in his northern tour, and recall many of the incidents to which his book alludes. We never have looked upon his like since, and rejoice in this republication as an act of justice, to retrieve an honest man from vulgar misrepresentation.

A copy of the Book, and a handsome present will be sent by mail, post-paid, upon receipt of $1 00 for the book, and 21 cents for postage.

A new Classified Catalogue of Books and Gifts, with inducements to Agents, will be sent free, on application.

THREE PER CENT A MONTH; or the Perils of Fast Living, By Charles Burdett, author of "Second Marriage," "Elliott Family," "Marion Desmond," "Never Too Late," etc., etc. One volume, 12mo., cloth. Price, $1 00.

This book deserves to be singled out and noted as above the many novels which are published. Both in structure and style it is entitled to the name of art. It is a Tale of Domestic Life, rehearsing the interwoven histories of a round of every day characters, and its aim is to show the follies of the too many, so called, passions and pleasures of fashionable life, touching in no part upon ground that properly belongs to the vast domain of romance.

The Bachelor Millionare Uncle George, is a character reminding us of the Brothers Cheryble, and although he teaches the "sweet uses of Adversity" with severe discipline, it brings out the true beauty of character, and shows how few there are who can go through the trials of every-day life, and in the end prove their constancy.

Copies of either of the above books with a handsome Gift worth from 50 cents to $100, will be sent to any person in the United States upon receipt of $1 00, and 21 cents to pay postage, by addressing the Publisher.

A new and Classified Catalogue of Books in every department of Literature, together with a list of Gifts, and every information relative to the establishment of agencies in the Gift Book business will be mailed free to any one by

The Slave importation Hoax.

The love of many of our countrymen for playing off practical jokes is curiously illustrated in the annexed confession of a New Orleans journal. The pretending friends of the "poor negro" have, by their dishonesty and extravagance, subjected themselves and those who confide in them, to just such hoaxes as the Crescent seems to acknowledge it has helped on, for the pure fun of seeing an abolitionist "cavort, howl, and rave"—metaphorically, of course! Not very dignified sport this, it must be admitted; but the experiment has proved that the nigger gullibility in certain quarters has no limit.

The northern papers are now, and have been for some months past, terribly exercised about what they choose to term a renewal of the African slave. Columns ponderous and columns verbose—columns denunciatory and columns sarcastic—columns foolish and columns fanatical—have been written and published daily for the last six months, having sole reference to this particular subject, and no signs of a termination of the wind-mill warfare have yet manifested themselves.

For our part, we have enjoyed the spectacle, and take great pleasure all times in witnessing the contortions of the pharisaical friends of the African race. We like to see sometimes a fanatic and hypocrite invent a falsehood and then impale himself upon it for the edification of the careless public and the amusement of all sensible men. It is so funny.

Perhaps we have helped on the delusion under which so many of the free-soil papers of the North labor. If so, we shall not beg pardon of annybody. We have alluded to the matter on several occasions, and assumed neither positive nor negative grounds. Indeed, we are not sure but that we have very slightly encouraged this idea that the African slave-trade was in active operation. If we did—we don't exactly remember at the present writing—it was to make Greely, Beecher and company cavort, howl, and rave, not because we had anny definite or other knowledge in the premices. We were well aware that a large majority of southern slave holders were opposed to a re-opening of the traffic, and were convinced that nothing of the sort on anything like an extensive scale could be consummated without our knowledge, our means of acquiring information being rather large than otherwise. Perhaps one or two cargoes of Congos, numbering two or three hundred persons each, have been landed on southern shores from Yankee vessels, manned by Yankee officers and seamen, and fitted out and supported by Yankee money and enterprise exclusively, within the last twelve months. Of even this we are by no means sure; but if it be the case, a Yankee, at home no doubt a rampant abolitionist, was at the bottom of it. A real southerner would no more think of going to Congo for a supply of laborers than he would of applying to the man in the moon to take up a note in bank for him.—N. O. Crescent.

DISEASES OF THE LIVER.

☞When the celebrated Dr. Rush declared that drunkenness was a disease, he enunciated a truth which the experience and observation of medical men is every day confirming. The many insane excesses of those who indulge in the use of spirituous liquors, may be thus accounted for. The true cause of conduct, which is taken for infatuation, is very frequently a diseased state of the Liver. No organ in the human system, when deranged, produces a more frightful catalogue of diseases. And if, instead of applying remedies to the manifestations of disease, as is too often the case, physicians would prescribe with a view to the original cause, fewer deaths would result from diseases induced by a deranged state of the Liver. Three-fourths of the diseases enumerated under the head of Consumption, have their seat in a diseased Liver. Dr. M'Lane' celebrated Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., are a certain cure.

☞Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, manufactured by FEMING BROS. of Pittsburg, Pa. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Liver Pills also his celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.

A VOICE FROM VIRGINIA.

Dr. Seth S. Hance:—I was in Baltimore in April 1854, and from a paper I received of yours was induced to buy a box of your Pills, recommended as a sovereign cure for epileptic fits. At that time one of my servants had been afflicted with fits about 12 years. When reaching home, I commenced with the pills acording to directions. I do not think she has had one since. My wife, though, is somewhat induced to believe she may have had one only. Enclosed you will find five dollars, for which you wil please forwrad me two boxes. Your compliance will oblige me. Yours respectfully. M. S Sledge.

Dr. Hance's Epileptic Pills are also sovereign remedy for every modification of nervous diseases. The nervous sufferer, whether tormented by the acute, physical agony of neuralgia, ticdolereux, or ordinary headache, afflicted with vague terrors, weakened by periodical fits, threatened with paralysis, borne down and dispirited by that terrible lassitude which proceeds from a lack of nervous energy, or unnatural condition of the wonderful machinery which connects every member with the source of sensation, and thought—derives immediate benefit from the use of those pills, which at once calms, invigorates, and regulates the shattered nervous organization.

Sent to any part of the country by mail. free of postage. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Biltimore street, Baltimore, Md. Price, one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $24.

ONE PERSON for Auditor General of the Commonwealth.
ONE PESON for Surveyor General of the Commonwealth.
TWO PERSONS, in conjunction with the county of Somerset, to fill the office of Members of the House of Representatives, to represent the counties of Bedford and Somerset in the House of Representatives.
ONE PERSON for the office of Associate Judge for Bedford county.
ONE PERSON for the office of Treasurer for Bedford county.
ONE PERSON for the office of District Attorney for Bedford county.
ONE PERSON for the office of County Surveyer.
ONE PERSON for the office of Commissioner.
ONE PERSON for the office of Poor House Director.
ONE PERSON for the office of Auditor for said county.

The election to be opened between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock in the forenoon, by public proclamation, and to keep open till 7 o'clock in the evening, when the polls shall be closed.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

That every person, excepting Justices of the peace, who shall hold any office or appointment of profit or trust under the United States, or of this State, or any city or corporated district, whether a commissioned officer or otherwise, a subordinate officer, agent who is or shall be employed under the legislature, executive or Judiciary department of this State, or of any city, or of any incorporated district, and also, that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or Commissioners of any incorporated district, is by law incapable of holding or exercising at the time the office or appointment of Judge, inspector or clerk of any election of this Commonwealth, and that no inspector, judge or other officer of such election shall be eligible to be then voted for.

And the said act of assembly entitled "an act relating to elections of this Commonwealth," passed July 3d, 1819, further provides as follows, to wit:

"That the inspectors and judges shall meet at the respective places appointed for holding the election in the district at which they respectively belong, before 8 o'clock in the Morning of the 2d Tuesday of October, and each said inspector shall appoint one clerk, who shall be a qualified voter of such district.

"In case the person who shall have received the second highest number of votes for inspector, shall not attend on the day of any election, then the person who shall have received the second highest number of votes for Judge at the next preceding election, shall act as inspector in his place. And in case the person who has received the highest number of votes for inspector shall not attend, the person elected Judge shall appoint an inspector in in his place, and in case the person elected judge shall not attend, then the inspector who received the highest number of votes shall appoint a judge in his place; and if any vacancy shall continue in the board for the space of one hour after the time fixed by law for the opening of the election the qualified voters for the township, ward or district for which such officers shall have been elected, present at the election, shall elect one of their number to fill such a vacancy.

It shall be the duty of the several assessors respectively to attend at the place of holding every general, special, or township election during the whole time such election is kept open, for the purpose of giving information to the inspectors, and judge, when called on, in relation to the right of any person assessed by them to vote at such election, and on such other matters in relation to the assessment of voters, as the said inspectors or either of them shall from time to time require.

"No person shall be permitted to vote at any election as aforesaid, than a white freeman of the age of twenty one or more, who shall have resided in this State at least one year, and in the election district where he offers to vote ten days immediately preceding such election, and within two years paid a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least ten days before the election. But a citizen of the United States who has previously been a qualified voter of this State and removed therefrom and returned, and who shall have resided in the election district and paid taxes, aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote after residing in this State six months. Provided, That the white freemen, citizens of the United States, between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two years, who have resided in the election district ten days as aforesaid shall be entitled to vote, although they shall not have paid tax.

"No person shall be permitted to vote whose name is not contained in the list of taxable inhabitants furnished by the Commissioners, unless: First, he produce a receipt of payment, within two years of State or County tax assessed agreeably to the Constitution, and give satisfactory evidence on his own oath or affirmation of another that he has paid such a tax, or in a failure to produce a receipt shall make oath to the payment thereof, or second, if he claim a right to vote by being an elector between the age of twenty-one and twenty-two years shall depose on oath or affirmation, that he has resided in the State at least one year next before his application, and make such proof of residence in the district as is required by this act, and that he does verily believe, from the account given him that he is of the age aforesaid, and give such other evidence as is required by this act, whereupon the name of the person so admitted to vote shall be inserted in the alphabetical list by the inspector, and a note made opposite thereto by writing the word "tax," if he shall be admitted to vote by reason of having paid tax, or the word "age" if he shall be admitted to vote by reason of age, and in either case, the reason of such a vote shall be called out to the clerks, who shall make the like note in the lists of voters kept by them.

"In all cases where the name of the person claiming to vote is not found on the list furnished by the commissioners, and assessors, or his right to vote whether found thereon or not, is objected to by any qualified citizen, it shall be the duty of the inspectors to examine such persons on oath as to his qualifications, and if he claims to have resided within the State for one year or more, his oath shall be sufficient proof thereof, but he shall make proof by at least one competent witness, who shall be a qualified elector that he has resided within the district for more than ten days immediately preceding said election and shall also himself swear that his bona fide residence, in pursuance of his lawful calling, is within the district, and that he did not remove in the district for the purpose of voting therein.

"Every person qualified as aforesaid, and who shall make due proof if required, of his residence and payment of taxes, as aforesaid, shall be admitted to vote in the township, ward or district in which he shall reside.

"If any person shall prevent or attempt to prevent any officer of an election, under this act from holding such election, or use or threaten any violence to any such officer, and shall interrupt or improperly interfere with him in the execution of his duty, shall block or attempt to block up the window or avenue to any window where the same may be holden, or shall riotously disturb the peace of such election, or shall use or practice any intimidation, threats, force or violence, with the design to influence unduly or overawe any elector, or prevent him from voting, or to restrain the free dom of choice, such person on conviction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars and be imprisoned for any time not less than one nor more than twelve months, and if it shall be shown in the Court where the trial of such offence shall be had, that the person so offending was not a resident of the city, ward, district or township where the said offence was committed, and not entitled to vote therein, then, on conviction, he shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years.

"If any person or persons shall make any bet or wager upon the result of any election with in the Commonwealth, or shall offer to make any such bet or wager either by verbal proclamation thereof, or by any written or printed advertisement, challenge or invite any person or persons to make such bet or wager, upon conviction thereof, he or they shall forfeit and pay three fines the amount they bet or offered to bet.

And the Juges of the respective districts aforesaid, are required to meet at Bedford, on Friday, next following the holding of said election, then and there to perform those things required of them by law.

Given under my hand, at my office in Bedford, this 9th day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight, and the eighty-fourth of the Independence of the United States.

WILLIAM S. FLUKE, Sheriff.

BEDFORD CLASSICAL INSTITUTE.

Rev. John Lyon,
T. Lyttleton Lyon, A. M., } Principals.

THE Fall session of this institution will open on Friday, the 16th day of September, 1859.

It is the design of the Principals, to make this Academy, in all respects, a first class Institution, for the thorough instruction of youth of both sexes, and to prepare them for any profession or position in life.

The high moral and scientific tone of the school is well known to this community.

The spacious brick building adjoining the residence of Dr. Wm. Watson, has been secured for the purposes of the Academy.

A few boys, (the number is limited to ten,) will be received into the family of the Principals, as boarders.

The beauty of the scenery and the salubrity of the climate render Bedford a most desirable location for such a school.

Persons from abroad, visiting at the Springs, can be near their children during the summer.

It is desirable that pupils should enter at the commencement of the session.

Terms. { $200 per year, including boarding, washing, fuel, light, and Tuition in all the branches.

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated
Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE,

For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,

For the cure of Liver Complaints, all Bilious Derangements, Sick Head-Ache, &c. In cases of

Fever and Ague,

preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivaled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors,

Fleming Brothers,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROS. Pittsburgh, Pa.

P.S. Dealers and Physicians ordering from others than Fleming Bros., will do well to write their orders distinctly, and take none but Dr. M'Lane's, prepared by Fleming Bros. Pittsburgh, Pa. To those wishing to give them a trial, we will forward per mail, post paid, to any part of the United States, one box of Pills for twelve three-cent postage stamps, or one vial of Vermifuge for fourteen three-cent stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

DR. HOOFLAND'S BALSAMIC CORDIAL,

The great standard medicines of the present age, have acquired their great popularity only through years of trial. Unbounded satisfaction is rendered by them in all cases; and the people have pronounced them worthy.

Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Debility of the Nervous System, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered liver or weakness of the stomach and digestive organs, are speedily and permanently cured by the GERMAN BITTERS.

The Balsamic Cordial has acquired a reputation surpassing that of any similar preparation extant. It will cure, WITHOUT FAIL, the most severe and long-standing

Cough, Cold, or Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Influenza, Croup, Pneumonia, Incipient Consumption, and has performed the most astonishing cures ever known of Confirmed Consumption.

A few doses will also at once check and cure the most severe Diarrhœa proceeding from Cold in the Bowels.

These medicines are prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson & Co., No. 418 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and are sold by druggists and dealers in medicines everywhere, at 75 cents per bottle. The signature of C. M. Jackson will be on the outside wrapper of each bottle.

In the Almanac published annually by the proprietors, called Everybody's Almanac, you will find testimony and commendatory notices from all parts of the country. These Almanacs are given away by all our agents.

DRS. FITCH & SIKES, would state that their treatment of Consumption is based upon the fact that the disease exists in the blood and system at large, both before and during its development in the lungs, and they therefore employ Mechanical, Hygienic and Medecinal Inhalations, which they value highly, but only as Palliatives, (having no Curative effect when used alone,) and Invalids are earnestly cautioned against wasting the precious time of curability on any treatment based upon the plausible, but false idea that the "seat of the disease can be reached in a direct manner by Inhalation," for as before stated, the seat of the disease is in the blood and its effects only in the lungs.*

FARM LANDS FOR SALE 25 MILES from Philadelphia by Railroad in the State of New Jersey. Soil among the best for Agricultural purposes being a good loam soil, with a clay bottom. The land is a large tract, divided into small farms, and hundreds from all parts of the country are now settling and building. The crops produced are large and can be seen growing. The climate is delightful and secure from frosts. Terms from $15 to $20 per acre, payable within four years by instalments. To visit the place—Leave Vine Street Wharf at Philadelphia at 7½ A. M. by Railroad for Hammonton, or address R. J. Byrnes, by letter, Hammonton Post Office, Atlantic County, New Jersey. See full advertisement in another column.

NOTICE.

All persons are hereby notified that I have purchased at Sheriffs Sale one lot of Tinner Machines, Hand Tools, Patterns &c. Also the entire lot of stock and tin ware in the shop lately occupied by Abraham Herman—as whose property the same was sold.

I also hereby give notice that I have hired said Herman, and will hereafter carry on the Tinning business at the shop formerly occupied by him on Julianna Street. Notice is further given that the Books of said Herman now belong to me and any persons having accounts will please present them to Samuel Radebaugh Esq., for settlement without delay.

BEDFORD COUNTY MAP.

I WILL make a directory map of Bedford County from actual surveys, if a sufficient number of subscribers can be raised to justify me in the enterprise.

The map will be large and well finished and will show the location of all the public roads streams, boundary lines, towns, villages, Hotels, Churches, School Houses, Post Offices, stores, grist mills, saw mills &c., &c., and will contain the names of all the property holders, and show the busines that almost each one is engaged in. I will put on the same sheet maps of all the towns and large villages, also tables and statistics of the County and (if taken in time) the census of 1860. Pains will be taken to make it as reliable as any Map in the State.

FOR SALE or Trade.

A FARM WITHIN ONE

mile of the Rail Road and two miles of Stonerstown, in the Broad Top Coal region, containing about 160 acres, being good bottom land—about one-half cleared and the balance well timbered. The farm is well improved, and a fine spring of excellent water at the door of the house—also two good orchards of fruit trees on the premises.

ALSO,

A farm in Morrison's cove, adjoining lands of Da, vid Stuckey, Barley's heirs, Jacob Furry and others, containing about 200 acres, one half cleared and the balance well timbered, with an abundance of locust and chestnut timber. There are several never failing springs upon the premises with a constantly stream running through the farm. There is also a large and thrifty young orchard bearing fruit thereon. The improvements are a rough cast House, Log Barn and out buildings.

ALSO,

160 acres of land in Harrison County, Iowa, of first class prairie, close to timber and within a few miles of the Missouri river above Council Bluffs.

ALSO,

334 acres in Story county, Iowa.

ALSO,

113 acres in Pottowattamie county, Iowa, near Council Bluffs.

ALSO

Lot no 8 of block 53 in the city of Omaha, Nebraska Territory.

ALSO,

640 acres in Ripley County, Missouri.

—ALSO—

1280 acres of land in Austin county, Texas. East of the Brazos River on the Texas Central Rail Road, which runs through the land. It is well watered being upon the head waters of Cypress Creek.

—ALSO—

320 acres in Comanche county, Texas, on Wresler's Creek, 4 miles East of the Leon River, and on the line of the Memphis and El Passo Rail Road, now in process of construction.

ALSO,

The farm in Morrison's Cove, adjoining Bloomfield Furnace, known as the "Pearson property" lately owned by David Daniels, containing 131 ecres and 60 perches, with excellent orchard of fruit trees thereon and never failing water at the door. The improvements are one large frame House, one log House and barn, with convenient out-buildings. The land is good—produces well and is in a high state of cultivation. A good pike is close by leading to Hollidaysburg which with the Furnaces make a ready market at the door for all kinds of produce.

No 26 south Fourth street,

PHILADELPHIA,

Have now on hand a large assortment of Fire and Thief Proof Salamander Safes. Also, Iron Doors for Banks and Stores, Iron Shutters, Iron Sash, all makes of Locks, equal to any made in the United States.

Five Safes in one Fire. All Come out Right, with contents in good condition.

THE SALAMANDER SAFES OF PHILADELPHIA AGAINST THE WORLD.

Evans & Watson

Have had the surest demonstration in the following certificate that their manufacture of Salamander Safes has at length fully warranted the representations which have been made of them as rendering an undoubted security against the terrific element:

Philadelphia, April 12th, 1856.

Messrs. Evans & Watson,—Gentlemen,—It affords us the highest satisfaction to state to you, that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes which we purchased of you some few months since, we saved a large portion of our jewelry, and all our books, papers, &c., exposed to the calamitous fire in Ranstead Place, on the morning of the 11th instant.

When we reflect that these Safes were located in the fourth story of the building we occupied, and that they fell subsequently into a heap of burning ruins, where the vast concentration of heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot but regard the preservation of their valuable contents as most convincing proof of the great security afforded by your Safes.

We shall take much pleasure in recommending them to men of business as a sure reliance against fire.

LATE FIRE IN DUBUQUE, IOWA.

Dubuque, Jan. 7, 1859.

Gents:—I am requested by Mr. T. A. C. Cochrane, of this place, to say to you that on the morning of the 4th instant, about 3 o'clock, his store took fire, and the entire stock of goods were destroyed. The heat became so suddenly intense that none of the goods could possibly be saved; but fortunately his books and papers which were in one of your Champion Safes, were all preserved perfectly. And well they may be called Champion, for during the whole conflagration there was one incessant pouring of flame directly upon the safe which contained them. And still, upon opening it, the inside was found to be scarcely warm, while the outside was most severely scorched.

Yours truly,

N. A. McCLURE.
